

Question 1: (a) Explain two main differences between Data and Information.

(b) List three disadvantages of manual data handling and explain how they affect decision-making accuracy.

(c) Name four steps in the Data Processing Life Cycle.

Question 2: (a) Give one example each of System Software and Application Software and explain their main function.

(b) What is Open Source Software (OSS)? Explain two advantages over proprietary software.

Question 3: Discuss the negative impacts of ICT on society and environment, focusing on digital divide and e-waste. Explain how ICT can help reduce these impacts.

Question Set 1:

1. (a) Classify the following as System Software or Application Software:

- Linux

- Word Processor

- Web Browser

(b) (i) Explain the difference between data and information.

(ii) State three disadvantages of manual data processing.

(iii) Explain hardware, software, and firmware with examples.

(c) Explain economic and social benefits of ICT.

(d) Briefly explain negative impacts of ICT on social, economic, environmental, ethical, and legal aspects.

Question Set 2:

2. (a) Explain five safe methods of disposing e-waste.

(b) Explain impacts of teleworking.

(c) What is digital divide?

(d) Why is reducing digital divide important?

(e) Why is reducing digital divide important for a country like Sri Lanka?

Essay Questions:

(1) (i) Explain three differences between data and information.

(ii) List four internet services.

(iii) Name four main components of a computer system.

(iv) Name two types of data input with examples.

(v) Name three types of output devices based on output nature.

(2) (i) Name and explain data validation methods.

(ii) Name parts of CPU and explain their functions.

(iii) Explain data processing methods.

(iv) Define system software.

(v) Explain open source vs proprietary software.

(3) (i) Name ICT services used in healthcare.

(ii) Name three uses of ICT in education.

(iii) Name three ICT applications in business/banking.

(iv) State two advantages of LMS for students and teachers.

(v) Explain how ICT supports agriculture development.

(4) (i) Explain social and economic benefits of ICT.

(ii) Explain ICT's role in national development.

(iii) List five health issues due to ICT misuse.

(iv) Suggest solutions to reduce those health issues.

(v) Explain how green computing can be improved.

(5) (i) Identify input, process, and output in fingerprint system.

(ii) State advantages and disadvantages of robotics.

(iii) Explain classification of computers based on technology.

(iv) Explain classification based on size.

(v) Explain how smart classrooms support learning.